

Social and Personal.

THE social event of to-day will be the wedding of Miss Helen Lyle Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanley Robertson, to Sydney Stotter Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Smith, the ceremony being celebrated in the home of the bride's parents, at Woodland Heights, at 10 A. M. The Robertson home will be decorated throughout in a color scheme of green, masses of palms and potted plants decorating the parlors and halls. Rev. Benjamin Dennis will perform the ceremony. Mr. Smith will have as his best man the bride's brother, Midshipman Robert Stanley Robertson, Jr., and Miss Robertson will be attended by her sister, Miss Janie Holmes Robertson, as maid of honor, and Misses Helen Bland Battle, Marlon Wilson Robertson, Sarah Brownlee French, the bride's cousins, and Miss Ellen Harriet Smith, the groom's sister, will act as bridesmaids. They will be gowned in white chiffon, with pink sashes, and carry sheath bouquets of white sweet peas. The bride, who will enter the parlor with her father and be given away by him, will wear an exquisite gown of white crepe, trimmed in old lace, with picture hat. She will carry a shower of gardenias and sweet peas. Her maid of honor's costume will be of ivory chiffon and her bouquet pink rosebuds.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Smith will leave for an extended bridal tour in the North. Among guests who are here to attend the wedding are Miss Margaret Smith, of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Marion Robertson, of Portsmouth, Va.; Misses Jessie Anderson and Martha Griggs, of Petersburg; Mrs. Guy Dunlop, of Atlanta, Ga.; Midshipman Ben McCandlish, Mrs. Gray McCandlish and Miss Lolla McCandlish.

POLITICS REACHES FISTICUFF STAGE

Battle Follows Speech of Judge William H. Mann in Gloucester.

NO ONE IS INJURED

Nottoway Candidate Receives Flattering Reception from Voters of Tidewater.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] GLOUCESTER COURTHOUSE, VA., July 5.—Judge William H. Mann, candidate for Governor of Virginia, addressed a large audience at Gloucester Courthouse to-day. Judge Mann was introduced by Hon. J. N. Stubbs and made a speech in which he dwelt strikingly on State issues, touching upon education, agriculture, increase of pensions for old soldiers and widows of old soldiers, temperance, and the Mann bill. Finally Judge Mann answered the charges brought against him by his opponent. Mr. Mann's speech was frequently applauded, especially when he referred to the subject of convict labor being used for improving Virginia roads, and when he said he thought convicts should be used to crush rock in the mountainous district and that rock should be delivered free of charge in Tidewater Virginia.

Judge Mann evidently made a good impression and increased his chances for votes in Gloucester.

Directly after the speech there was a lively fist fight between an adherent of Hon. Harry Tucker and one of Mr. Mann's supporters. The fight was stopped before either was injured.

Tucker in Albemarle. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., July 5.—Hon. Harry St. G. Tucker addressed the voters of Charlottesville and Albemarle this afternoon. A crowd of about 200 listened to his speech, which lasted nearly two hours. The Albemarle Band paraded the street before the speaking. Mr. Tucker was introduced by Judge R. T. W. Davis, who stated that at one time he expected to be Mr. Tucker's opponent, but that he concluded to wait until he got a little more money. Mr. Tucker, he said, was a Democrat of the old school, and represented no radicalism.

Mr. Tucker's address was devoted principally to the discussion of Judge Mann's record as shown by the Senate Journal of Virginia. He said that he was the candidate of no organization, no clique, no machine. "If I become an inmate of the Governor's Mansion," he said, "I want to go in at the front door, and not sneak in through the back door."

Mr. Tucker said he was not willing to give Judge Mann the credit for saving the State of the country barroom. "The Valley and the South-west had decided that question five years ago," he said, "and had gotten rid of all but a few. The people did not believe in the country bar. Sentiment was against it. The State was ripe for the Mann bill. The Mann law did not create the temperance sentiment. The temperance sentiment created the Mann law. Judge Mann says he has never approached the whiskey leaders. Well, then, somebody has done so in his behalf, for in the cities they are for him. There is some gloved hand that has made that alliance; they are supporting him with some idea of restitution. These whiskey men have told me that they are for Judge Mann. The attempt has been made to put the whiskey people and the temperance people in the same bed, but it won't do. One will kick the other out. The temperance people will have a squeezed lemon handed them."

Judge Mann's supporters are counting upon giving their candidate several hundred majority in the county and city. Mr. Tucker's friends, however, claim the county.

ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENT OF RAILROAD DIRECTORS. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] RALEIGH, N. C., July 5.—Governor Kitchin has announced the appointment of the directors for the North Carolina Railroad, making almost a complete change in the personnel of the board. They follow: A. J. Ruffin, Hillsboro; H. C. Penn, Reidsville; R. L. Holt, Burlington; T. S. Flesher, Kernersville; C. C. Hargrave, Lexington; D. L. Carpenter, Newton; L. E. Pells, Salisbury; Charles M. Stedman, Greensboro; State proxy, E. A. E. Smith, Mt. Airy.

The directors meet in Greensboro, July 8 to organize, and it is understood that C. M. Stedman will be elected president to succeed Hugh Chatham and that A. H. Eller, Winston-Salem, will be re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The train was delayed thirty minutes on account of the accident.

Day Generally Observed. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ROANOKE, VA., July 5.—Independence Day was generally observed as a holiday, and all Roanoke turned out to the parks and the Fair Grounds, where races were held. There was a great use of fireworks, but no one was seriously injured.

The shoot of the Roanoke Gun Club was the most successful ever held. There were visitors from Lynchburg, Clifton Forge, Staunton and Blacksburg, and some splendid scores were made.

Contents at Luray. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LURAY, VA., July 5.—Between 6,000 and 7,000 people from all over Northern Virginia to-day attended the racing and band contests at Luray.

In the first contest Strasburg won the $75 prize, Shenandoah City coming in for second prize. Strasburg made the 150-yard dash in 30.5 seconds, and Shenandoah in 32.7 seconds. Woodstock's time was 33.2 seconds. Harrisonburg and Front Royal failed in the contest of 350 yds. The game of baseball between Harrisonburg and Newmarket was a pitchers' battle between Burke and Nelt, the score being 1 to 3 in favor of Harrisonburg.

The temperance parade, which marched from the downtown districts along the principal thoroughfares to Fairmount Park, where the speaking took place, was more than a mile in length, and was made up of Sunday schools, factory hands, heads of business houses, temperance people, organizations, including women and girls, and secret orders, headed by the two Mayors. There were many decorated vehicles and floats, each bearing a significant inscription suited to the temperance cause.

Hundreds of boys and girls, representing the Sunday schools, shouted the "dry" refrain as the procession moved through the streets. While the bands of music added to the inspiration of the occasion.

Several large floats, freighted with boys bore the inscription, on large streamers: "We protect our homes by law; why not the boys?"

Such an enthusiastic demonstration was never before witnessed here, and whether the "drys" win the election or not, to-day's events go far to demonstrate that it is going to be a memorable struggle, in which the temperance people will make a united effort. The "wets" are still reticent, it is known that they have issued a circular statement, but it has not yet been made public.
